Executive summary

We endeavour to confirm the accuracy of the qualitative content of this document annually. The qualitative content for this review was last confirmed as accurate by Aberdeen Investments on 11/05/2026.

The abrdn MyFolio Core funds are a range of low-cost, risk targeted fund of funds that were launched in September 2010. Led and managed by Katie Trowsdale and Robert Bowie.

The MyFolio Funds are run primarily by the Aberdeen Investments Managed & Model Solutions Portfolio Management Team and supporting investment personnel. Support is also provided by the Multi-Asset & Investment Solutions Team, a centralised resource within Aberdeen Investments providing research across the full range of asset classes.

Each portfolio in the range targets a level of risk in relation to world stock markets, as represented by the MSCI World Index, over 10 years.

The Aberdeen MyFolio fund ranges follow a four-step investment process starting with Strategic Asset Allocation, then Tactical Asset Allocation, followed by fund selection and portfolio construction and finally rebalance and review.

Investment objective

To generate growth over the long term (5 years or more) while being managed to a defined level of risk. The fund is part of the abrdn MyFolio core range, which offers five funds with different expected combinations of investment risk and return. The fund is risk level I, which aims to be the lowest risk fund in this range. The fund will invest its assets in actively and passively managed funds, including those managed by abrdn, to obtain broad exposure to a range of diversified investments. Typically, at least 50% of the assets will be those traditionally viewed as lower risk, such as cash, money market instruments, government bonds and investment grade corporate bonds.

Philosophy

Originally launched in 2010, the Aberdeen MyFolio ranges are a selection of multi-asset, fund-of-funds, designed to deliver returns over a ten-year time horizon and based on well-defined risk levels. The funds' philosophy and process is designed to adapt to changing market environments and valuations over the investment horizon.

At their core, the MyFolio investment philosophy is top-down and driven by the Strategic Asset Allocation (SAA). However, depending on the variety of Aberdeen MyFolio range chosen, TAA and stock-selection alpha is available.

Aberdeen Investments offer five different ranges of Aberdeen MyFolio fund (Index, Core, Multi-Manager, Enhanced ESG and Enhanced ESG Index) which can be chosen depending on the level of cost and manager involvement desired. Within each range there are five funds corresponding to five levels of risk. These five levels of risk are set in proportion to long-term equity market volatility.

For the MyFolio Core range, these funds offer SAA, active TAA and Stock Selection via Aberdeen Investments managed active funds.

The funds are agnostic regarding the underlying investment style of the invested funds - more critical is their exposure to attractively valued risk premiums. In keeping with their long-term view, the MyFolio managers aim to minimise turnover in the underlying invested funds. Some of the invested active funds have been held by the team for a 20-year period.

The managers also aim to minimise exposure to liquidity risk and will use investment vehicles that have a low probability of placing redemption holds.

People

Aberdeen Investments believes in a team-based approach and with ownership of the funds by both the fund managers and research analysts. It is practice for the portfolio managers to also maintain some research responsibility.

The MyFolio Funds are run primarily by the Aberdeen Investments Managed & Model Solutions Portfolio Management Team and supporting investment personnel.

Support is also provided by the Multi-Asset & Investment Solutions (MAIS) Team (see Process section), who are a large, centralised resource within Aberdeen Investments providing research across the full range of asset classes. This team comprises approximately 65 investment personnel, with an average of 18 years' industry experience, and 12 years at Aberdeen Investments.

Process

The Aberdeen MyFolio ranges use a four-step investment process:

1. Strategic Asset Allocation (SAA). The SAA is based on long-term investment principles, diversified across a broad range of differentiated, valuation-aware asset classes. The risk levels of the MyFolio funds are set relative to global equity market volatility over ten years to ensure a stable risk target. Asset classes are chosen for their exposure to key factors: Liquidity, Accessibility, Diversification, Distinctiveness, and Risk Premium. SAA is determined by expertise from across the MAIS and is not constrained by a benchmark. It is signed off and monitored by Aberdeen Investments' Strategic Asset Allocation Committee.
2. Tactical Asset Allocation (TAA). The TAA position applies to the MyFolio Core and MyFolio Multi-Manager ranges. TAA is led by the MAIS Team, incorporating input from the Aberdeen Investments Global Investment Group, forming a house view based on short-term factors and economic outlook. A +/-5% tolerance is allowed for each asset class, with a further +/-5% limit applied across each of Defensive and Growth Assets.
3. Fund selection and Portfolio Construction. The Fund Selection stage is used predominantly for the Aberdeen MyFolio ranges to access 3rd party funds outside of Aberdeen Investments. The Managed & Model Solutions Portfolio Management Team (MMS) is responsible for all fund selection and maintains a buy list of approved funds. Selection ideas are drawn from internal fund research, manager relationships, and quant screening. If a fund is selected for further research, an analyst conducts a desktop review and writes an initial note. If the fund remains promising, the MMS Team will arrange a manager meeting and concentrate on six key areas: Operational, Philosophy, Process, People, Performance and ESG.

The analysts report back to the wider MMS Team. If still of interest to the analyst will build a quantitative analysis, including a detailed performance attribution (using the Style Research software package), style attribution, and assessment of performance measures such as alpha concentration and win: loss ratios. A final meeting with the manager follows, involving the two analysts and one MyFolio fund manager. Aberdeen Investments estimates around 450 manager meetings are held annually. The final decision to include the fund in the Aberdeen MyFolio range is a quorum decision within the MMS Team.

A similarly robust process applies to passive fund investments within the Aberdeen MyFolio range. Software from Style Analytics is used to assess funds' underlying risk factors, and portfolio allocations are adjusted accordingly to ensure risk diversification.

4. Rebalance and Governance. The rebalance and governance stage involves ongoing fund monitoring. While monitored daily, managers allow some drift to reduce dealing costs. Before rebalancing, TAA tolerance, tracking error, and trade size are assessed by the MyFolio managers.

ESG is integrated across Aberdeen Investments. The MyFolio managers will assess how ESG principles are applied to the underlying funds' investment process. A weekly research and sector review is held to reassess current holdings and conduct deep dives into specific sectors. Additionally, weekly portfolio manager meetings cover performance, fund style attributes, and new research ideas.

Risk management

Risk is assessed at both the fund manager level, and by independent risk functions within Aberdeen Investments.

At front-office level, risk is considered pre-trade as part of the investment process. Then as part of ongoing reviews, ex-post risk adjusted performance measures are considered, alongside full holdings report from each fund (received by the 15th of each month, and subject to non-disclosure agreements), which is then used in conjunction with Style Research software to analyse for underlying risk factors. This research and analysis is regularly conducted as part of the team's investment process.

Beyond this, there is an independent Investment Risk team and further monitoring and compliance across various departments, notably the Investment Oversight team independently reviews and evaluates the MyFolio investments for their investment process, results and capabilities.
