Fund key objective

The Fund aims to provide a combination of income and growth by investing in a diversified portfolio of debt and debt-related securities that are listed or traded anywhere in the world (including in Emerging Markets).

The Fund aims to outperform the Bloomberg Global Aggregate Corporate BBB Index (Hedged to USD) with a yield greater than the index over rolling three-year periods (before charges).

Risk factors you should consider before investing:

- Credit risk The fund invests in securities which are subject to the risk that the issuer may default on interest or capital payments.
- Interest rate risk The fund price can go up or down daily for a variety of reasons including changes in interest rates, inflation expectations or the perceived credit quality of individual countries or securities.
- High Yield Credit risk The fund invests in high yielding bonds which carry a greater risk of default than those with lower yields.
- Derivatives risk The use of derivatives carries the risk of reduced liquidity, substantial loss and increased volatility in adverse market conditions, such as a failure amongst market participants. The use of derivatives may result in the fund being leveraged (where market exposure and thus the potential for loss by the fund exceeds the amount it has invested) and in these market conditions the effect of leverage will be to magnify losses.
- Emerging Markets risk The fund invests in emerging market equities and/or bonds. Investing in emerging markets involves a greater risk of loss than investing in more developed markets due to, among other factors, greater political, tax, economic, foreign exchange, liquidity and regulatory risks.
- Asset Backed/Mortgage Backed Securities The fund invests in mortgage and asset-backed securities (which may include collateralised loan, debt or mortgage obligations (respectively CLOs, CDOs or CMOs)). These are subject to prepayment and extension risk and additional liquidity and default risk compared to other credit securities.
- Convertible Securities and CoCos risk Convertible securities are investments that can be changed into another form upon certain triggers. As such, they can exhibit credit, equity and fixed interest risk. Contingent convertible securities (CoCos) are similar to convertible securities but have additional triggers which mean that they are more vulnerable to losses and volatile price movements and hence become less liquid.
- ESG Investment Risk Applying ESG and sustainability criteria in the investment process may result in the exclusion of securities within the fund's benchmark or universe of potential investments. The interpretation of ESG and sustainability criteria is subjective meaning that the fund may invest in companies which similar funds do not (and thus perform differently) and which do not align with the personal views of any individual investor.

Why this fund?

High Yield-like returns but with Investment Grade-like risk

The Global Income Bond Fund is a diversified, global multi-sector credit product that focusses on active bond selection across global credit markets, with the key aim of achieving High Yield-like returns and Investment Grade-like risk.

The Fund's core (70%) allocation is to BBB and BB rated corporate bonds, which is the segment we refer to as the 'sweet spot' of global credit. In particular, we believe the key objective of 'High Yield-like returns with Investment Grade-like risk' can be achieved by carefully blending the riskier side of Investment Grade (i.e. BBB rated bonds) with the highest quality parts of High Yield (i.e. BB rated bonds).

Access to the 'sweet spot' of global credit

The Fund aims to give access to what we refer to as the 'sweet spot' of global credit. This refers to BBB rated corporate bonds (the lowest Investment Grade credit rating) and BB rated corporate bonds (the highest High Yield credit rating). The Fund targets a minimum of 70% exposure to this segment, but with the requirement that the average credit rating of the whole portfolio should be no lower than BBB- (i.e. investment grade).

Historically, as shown below, a 50/50 allocation to BBB rated global Investment Grade bonds and BB rated global High Yield bonds has delivered returns that are close to the global High Yield bonds but with much lower risk that is closer to global Investment Grade bonds.

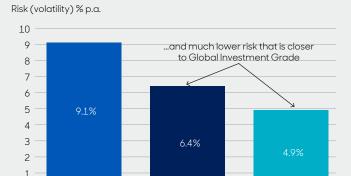

Traditionally, investors have allocated to the Investment Grade and High Yield bond segments on a stand-alone basis. However, the Global Income Bond Fund takes a more integrated approach, which we believe can offer the best risk and return trade-off, with yields that are closer to High Yield and risk that is closer to Investment Grade bonds.

Multiple investor use cases

We believe the risk/return profile of the Fund, coupled with its competitive yield, may appeal to a variety investor types, including:

- Investors seeking a multi-sector credit solution that offers diversified global exposure across public fixed income markets.
- Investors seeking a lower risk alternative to global High Yield.
- · Income-focussed investors seeking attractive income/yield with reliable monthly distributions.

Flexible and dynamic exposure to global credit markets

The Fund offers benchmark-agnostic, dynamic exposure to global credit markets, with ample flexibility to allocate beyond the core allocation of Investment Grade and High Yield bonds, including to emerging markets bonds. The aim is to find the best bonds that can deliver attractive and reliable sources of income.

Additionally, while there is good flexibility, risk is managed closely in a way that ensures good portfolio diversification, with controlled volatility and no unintended risk concentration.

Transparent and repeatable investment process

The Fund has a simple and repeatable investment process for harnessing the three key return levers of:

- 1) a 'core' (min 70%) position in BBB and BB credits;
- 2) a (max 20%) allocation to 'yield enhancers'; and
- 3) a (max 15%) allocation for 'beta management'.

The careful combination of these three 'building blocks' is what we believe enables the Fund to deliver the compelling outcome of High Yield-like returns but with much lower risk.
