Indirect Cost Ratios for Aberdeen Funds – For the year ended 30 June 2025

An Indirect Cost Ratio (ICR) is used to calculate the management cost of investing through a managed fund, compared with investing directly in the underlying assets of a Fund. An ICR is calculated by dividing the management costs (but not transactional operational costs) by the Fund's total average net assets over a financial year and expressing the figure as a percentage of the average net asset value of the Fund.
